NCGS Journal Contributions

Funeral of Yule Owen. Photograph. From DigitalNC: Images of North Carolina. <https://lib.digitalnc.org/record/1215?ln=en#c=0&m=0&s=0&cv=0&r=0&xywh=-34%2C-1%2C1437%2C771> (accessed 3 Feb 2020).

The NCGS Journal is an incredible resource that dives deep into specialized topics. Later this year, Volume 46 No. 3 will cover death records. We're not covering the standard fare of death certificates, obituaries, cemetery, or estate records. Rather, the issue will focus on coroners, coffin makers, funeral home records, livery stable ledgers, poor house records, and more.

We would love to feature your contributions! We are looking for images, suggestions for resources, personal family stories, and interesting death record information that would benefit journal readers and genealogical researchers.

Please send any contributions to journaleditor@ncgenealogy.org by April 1.

Repository Spotlights, NCGS Journal Features, and More on the Blog!

The NCGS Blog is a growing resource of information about North Carolina Genealogy. Did you catch our post on the North Carolina Digital Collections? Thanks to the hard work of the State Archives and State Library, there are over 50 free digitized collections that contain 90,000+ historic and recent photographs, state government publications, manuscripts, and more.

We also spotlight archived journal articles, share the latest news from the genealogy world, and more. Make sure you never miss a post by subscribing on the right-hand side of the page. Is there a journal article, North Carolina repository, or personal genealogical research success story you would like to share? Please send any suggestions to content@ncgenealogy.org.

Consider a Bequest

A bequest is one of the easiest and most meaningful ways to make a gift to North Carolina Genealogical Society. Gifts of any size made through a bequest help ensure that NCGS receives valuable support that will benefit genealogists and historical researchers far into the future. Donors can make a bequest by simply including a provision for NCGS in their wills or trusts. Donors can choose to give a specific dollar amount, specific property, or a percentage of their estates. Your bequest is a gift not just to the Society but to all genealogists, historical researchers, and to your own posterity. For more information about bequests, contact our Treasurer at treasurer@ncgenealogy.org.
