Free Recorded Webinar August 4-6

Watch "The Goodliest Soyle: Finding, Reading, & Interpreting North Carolina Land Records" on-demand from Friday, August 4 - Sunday, August 6.

About the Webinar:

Helen Leary’s series of webinars provide a solid background on the history of North Carolina and the available records. “The Goodliest Soyle” is the fifth in a series of webinars on North Carolina land, its beginnings as property available for settlement, geographic genealogy, laws, records, and record locations. This webinar focuses on the deeds, the land-grant process, reading the land records, and analyzing the land records.

by August 15th

Do you know a great North Carolina genealogy book that was published between August 15, 2022 and August 15, 2023? Do you think your society's newsletter or journal deserves some recognition? Do you know someone who has made an outstanding contribution to North Carolina genealogy or perhaps to NCGS?

The deadline for the North Carolina Genealogical Society Awards is August 15th. We offer these annual awards to recognize and encourage contributors to North Carolina genealogy. Awards criteria and the nomination form are available at <https://www.ncgenealogy.org/awards/>. (You'll find the nomination form at the bottom of the page.) We encourage you to nominate others or yourself. Winners are recognized at the annual meeting and receive a plaque.
